Oil Strike Gets Worse

Unions Close Grip On Open Refineries

Denver, May 2 —(AP)—Effects of a nation-wide oil strike began mushrooming tonight as more key negotiations bogged down and plant shut-downs spread.

Deputy Administrator Bruce K. Brown of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) said an order will be issued next week to limit flying in general. He said the strike has put the already tight supply of aviation gasoline "in a precarious position." Bruce estimated walkouts have cut that type of production by 35 per cent.

And in Washington, the Air Force said it has issued orders cutting down on flying activity outside the Korean theater because of the oil industry strike.

More Picket Lines
Additional picket lines went up as members of 22 AFL, Independent and CIO Oil Workers' unions began tightening their grip on the industry in support of demands for wage increases.

O. A. Knight, president of the powerful Oil Workers International Union (OIOW), promised cooperation "in every way possible" to see that public and emergency needs are met during the strike.

A Lowry Air Force spokesman at Denver said the Air Training Command at Scott AFB, Belleville, Ill., ordered curtailment of routine flying training to conserve gasoline. He added minimum requirements, including aircraft gunnery training, still are being met at Lowry.

Knight, in a statement, said all union locals were asked to permit gasoline for hospital, police and fire department, school and other public institution vehicles, to be moved through picket lines.

One bright spot appeared in the over-all picture.

An OIOW spokesman reported a contract signed with the Farmers Union Central Exchange, Inc., ending the strike of 130 employees at its Laurel, Mont., refinery.

The agreement is the first signed by OIOW in the current dispute. It calls for an immediate wage increase of 18 cents an hour, an increase of night shift differentials to 6 cents an hour from 4 p.m. to midnight and 12 cents from midnight to 6 a.m. In lieu of retroactive wage increases each worker will be paid $100.

Subcommittee Approves Mine Safety Bill

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—A House labor subcommittee today approved, 6 to 3, a compromise mine safety bill.

Chairman Kelley (D-Pa.) of the subcommittee told a reporter after the closed meeting the bill was supported by three Democrats and three Republicans. It was opposed, he said, by one Republican and two Democrats. He declined to give the breakdown by names.

The bill now goes to the full committee.

Under it, federal inspectors could shut down a mine only where there is imminent danger due to explosion, fire, flood or certain mechanical failures.

Base Corn Price Advanced 2 Cents

Decatur, Ill., May 2 —(AP)—Base prices of government owned surplus corn in Illinois are up two cents a bushel this month over April, the state production and marketing administration announced today.

Howard G. Abbott, state PMA committee member, said there are 30,679,922 bushels of corn for sale to livestock feeders and other eligible buyers.

The corn, most of it from the 1948 crop, is stored in county bin sites. The surplus is bought under the government's price support program.

The minimum price for May is the 1951 county corn price support loan rate, plus 24 cents a bushel. In April the added figure was 22 cents a bushel.

The loan rates vary by counties, ranging from $1.56 to $1.63. Thus the May price for the surplus corn ranged from $1.80 to $1.87.

AP SCIENCE EDITOR DIES IN NEW YORK

Port Washington, N.Y., May 2 —(AP)—Howard W. Blakeslee, 72, Associated Press science editor and a pioneer in making science clear to the layman, died today.

The sprightly winner of the Pulitzer prize and numerous other honors was stricken with coronary thrombosis in his home.

He was active to the end. He covered the recent atomic test in Nevada and had returned home only last night from a meeting of the American society of bacteriologists in Boston.

Agreements Drain Troops From U.S.

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—The Army's chief of staff disclosed today that foreign commitments have drained the United States of all its regular infantry divisions.

The only big army units now stationed at home, Gen. J. Lawton Collins told a House subcommittee, are two airborne and one armored division of the regular Army and four National Guard infantry divisions.

Six American divisions are engaged in Korea, Collins said, and two are garrisoned in Japan. He reported that five others, including an armored division, are in Europe.

Collins appeared before a House armed services subcommittee to support a bill which would permit defense authorities to keep National Guard divisions on active duty for five years.

He outlined current troop dispositions to explain why President Truman issued an order last month requiring many National Guardsmen and other volunteers on active duty to serve a maximum of nine additional months if their service normally would expire between July 1, 1952, and June 30, 1953.

All these men will be returned to civilian life in nine months or less, Collins said.

He promised Rep. Hardy (D-Va.), a subcommittee member, that no more National Guard units would be called up for the purpose of supplying individual replacements in Korea. But he added the problem of maintaining the rotation program for Korean veterans was hampered by lack of trained manpower.

Seaman Hopping Fights System Of Inequality In Navy

Pearl Harbor, May 2 —(AP)—The Navy decided today to convene a special court-martial to try millionaire seaman Bruce S. Hopping on charges of criticizing Navy discipline.

The announcement from Rear Adm. Charles E. McMorris, commander of the Pearl Harbor naval district, said the time and place of the court-martial would be set later.

Hopping was a leader among crewmen who complained of "petty tyranny" on the salvage ship Reclaimer. A Navy board exonerated the two top officers of the ship.

McMorris acted on the recommendation of Rear Adm. Francis C. Denebrink, commander of service forces in the Pacific, who had a brush with Hopping last Saturday.

If convicted, Hopping, vice-president of the Ripley-Hopping Lumber Co., of Port Newark, N.J., would face a maximum sentence of six months at hard labor, a bad conduct discharge, and a forfeiture of two-thirds pay for six months.

Hopping said in an interview yesterday he was fighting the "system of inequality in the whole navy."

Soviet Guns Hit U.S. Destroyers

Seoul, Saturday, May 3 —(AP)—Two U.S. destroyers slugged it out with Red shore guns Wednesday in Wonsan harbor in what the Navy today said was the longest such duel of the Korean war. Both destroyers were hit but damage was slight.

Action was light both around and in the air Friday. The Communists made some probing jabs in the east. Pilots said one MIG-15 probably was destroyed in a clash between 22 U.S. Sabres and four Red jets over Northwest Korea.

The Wonsan battle began when the destroyer Maddox and Laffey steamed into that besieged east coast harbor and began bombarding beach targets. Their five-inch guns blew up a large supply area.

At noon, the Red coastal artillery opened up. The exchange thundered on all afternoon.

The Navy did not say whether the shore guns were silenced or whether there were any casualties aboard the destroyers.

95 Fly Ocean In Single Plane

Shannon Airport, Ireland, May 2 —(AP)—A Pan American Airways tourist plane from New York landed here today with 95 persons aboard. It was the largest number to fly the Atlantic Ocean in one plane, Pan American said.

Eighty-seven passengers and eight crew personnel were aboard the first of PAA's new low-fare flights from America to Europe. The plane was enroute to London, Duesseldorf and Frankfurt.

Supply Train Destroyed By Sabre Pilots

Seoul, Korea, May 2 —(AP)—U. S. Sabre pilots reported today they made one of their rare strafing attacks—since there were no MIGs to fight—and destroyed a locomotive and damaged 25 cars on a supply train near Chongju.

"We were on a screening mission and spotted the smoke below us," said Capt. James R. Miller of Marion, Ill. "My element went down to have a look and watched the train enter Chongju. We let the locomotive move on through town and hit it then. My 50's (machineguns) raked it good, and spouts of steam and smoke shot out. A moment later it exploded."

Thunderjet pilots, who are the strafers in this war, on the other hand had a tangle with MIGs, a job usually reserved for the swifter Sabres.

"The MIGs jumped us at about 3,000 feet and we mixed things up with them," said Capt. Gilbert G. Wesselskamfer of Chicago. "We fired and evaded the passes they made. They quickly broke off and headed for the Yalu."

The Thunderjets made no damage claims.

Mine Inspector Where 120 Died Fired From Job

Springfield, Ill., May 2 —(AP)—James R. Wilson, state inspector at the West Frankfort mine where 120 men were killed Dec. 21, has been fired from his job, Walter Eadie, state director of mines and minerals announced today.

Eadie said Wilson was dismissed effective April 30 because of his system of reporting on mine conditions.

The dismissal had nothing to do with the West Frankfort mine disaster, Eadie said.

Wilson, 71, has been a state inspector for 10 years. His district included the Orient No. 2, where the December blast occurred, and two other mines in Franklin county. His successor has as yet not been named.

Eadie told a reporter that Wilson "ignored our request to comply with department instructions in making reports on mine conditions."

He said Wilson persisted in using the word "fair" in describing safety conditions although the department had advised discontinuance of the description.

Eadie said mine conditions are either "good" or recommendations are required from the mine inspectors.

The mines department director said he has not been informed whether Wilson would fight the dismissal but added that "he certainly has a right to a hearing if he wants it."

Wilson could not be reached for comment immediately.

Indiana Stockyards Destroyed By Fire

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 2 —(AP)—A $300,000 fire leveled the Fort Wayne Union Stockyards in 30 minutes tonight, and police said two small boys admitted starting the fire by accident.

The two boys, eight and nine years old, were "camping out" near the stockyards. Police said they related that they started a little fire and ran when it "got too big." They were picked up for questioning a short time later.

The frame building, 640 by 240 feet, at the east edge of Fort Wayne burned like tinder in a light breeze and laid a pall of smoke over the area to the south. In a few minutes it was only smoking embers.

Truman Denounces 'Political Gangsters'

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—President Truman declared tonight that "political gangsters" are trying to "pervert the government's loyalty program into an instrument of intimidation and blackmail" as part of an unscrupulous campaign to sneak themselves into power "by the back door."

Truman said also that his political opposition — "growing frantic" — is filling the air with "downright lies" about corruption in his administration.

"These tactics contain the seeds of tyranny," the president said in a fiery speech prepared for the National Civil Service League and the Society for Personnel Administration.

"Can we be sure that people who employ such tactics are really loyal to our form of government, with its bill of rights and its tradition of individual liberty?"

"I believe such men betray our country and all it stands for," the president went on. "I believe they are as grave a menace as the Communists."

No Names
Truman named no names, but similar remarks of his in the past have been aimed directly at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and others in congress who have charged the Truman and Roosevelt administrations with harboring Communists.

The president also let fly at the many Republicans who have charged there is widespread corruption among government officials.

Truman declared the ethical standards in his administration "are higher than those prevailing in the American business community," and he added:

"It is a curious fact that those in the business world who shout the loudest about corruption are those who most often approach the government with their hands out."

Truman acknowledged that "we have had some bad people turn up in the government, just as they do in business and industry."

"Will Turn Them Up"
But, he declared: "They are not in the government now, and we are prosecuting all those who have violated criminal statutes. If we turn up any more, they can expect the same treatment—and if there are any we will turn them up."

The National Civil Service League describes itself as a non-partisan organization composed of business and civic leaders working for civil service reforms. It is holding its 70th annual meeting.

The Society for Personnel Administration, joint sponsor of tonight's banquet, is composed of top level federal officials.

SALES TAX UP
Springfield, Ill., May 2 —(AP)—Illinois sales tax receipts for April rose nearly $1,500,000 over March, State Treasurer William G. Stratton reported today. The April total was $16,885,043.

Stratton also reported a slight rise in motor fuel tax revenue, with $6,865,845 collected in April.

"BIG PUMMERIN" RINGS AGAIN—Re-cast 20-ton "Big Pummerin," which rang from bellry of St. Stephen's Cathedral, Vienna, for more than 200 years, will sound again. Broken during fighting in 1945, the bell is carried in procession through Linz, Austria, en route to Vienna.

Congressman Denies All Are 'Toppers'

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—A water-drinking congressman from New York state denied today that he had ever said fellow members of the House "were drunkards."

And Rep. Edwin A. Hall, a Republican, accused some of his colleagues of having ganged up on him yesterday in "one of the most cowardly attacks on the House floor in history."

Hall, who neither drinks intoxicants nor smokes, was taken to task severely in the House because of published reports that he told his constituents he resents congressmen "who get genuinely plastered" at Washington cocktail parties.

These and other remarks about tipping legislators led to talk of a resolution of censure against Hall for having reflected on the reputation of the House.

Hall was not present during the uproar, and his retort was inserted in the Congressional Record today.

"I emphatically deny having ever said that 'congressmen were drunkards' or that some members of the congressional atomic energy committee were drunk at the recent Nevada A-bomb tests," Hall said.

He accused "those who stirred up this vicious incident of deliberately putting me in this position at a time I was not present to defend myself."

"The action was cowardly and unfair," Hall declared.

He said the demonstration was inspired by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) "and a few of his cronies to embarrass and humiliate me with the people of my district and to damage my reputation with them."

Hall and Cole are veteran members of the House. The federal re-districting law has put them in the same district this year, and they are opposing each other for the Republican nomination.

Airmen Who Didn't Want To Fly Get Chance To Resign

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—One air force officer, under court martial sentence for refusing to fly, has been offered a chance to resign "for the good of the service," it was disclosed tonight.

The opportunity to resign has been given Lt. Verne Goodwin, his father-in-law, Parker Cullom, told reporters.

Air force officers were present when Cullom made the announcement at an informal news conference at the Pentagon.

Goodwin, recently sentenced to two years at hard labor for refusing to fly, is now confined to quarters at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas.

While air force officials unofficially confirmed Cullom's statement, they declined to say whether the action in the Goodwin case would set a pattern for other flyers who have refused to go aloft for various reasons.

Cullom of Las Cruces, N.M., said he had telephoned his daughter, Mrs. Goodwin, at El Paso and said he was sure his son-in-law would send his resignation immediately.

Red Fire Damages 2 U. S. Destroyers In Wonsan Harbor

Seoul, Korea, May 2 —(AP)—Two American destroyers were damaged slightly by Communist shore batteries in a gun duel that raged all Wednesday afternoon in besieged Wonsan harbor on Korea's east coast the navy announced today.

The navy said it was the longest ship-to-shore artillery duel of the Korean war.

The navy did not say whether there were any casualties.

The destroyers, the Maddox and the Laffey, together fired 730 rounds at shore guns.

(The North Korean radio at Pyongyang said shore batteries at Kosong on the east coast damaged a United Nations destroyer Thursday.)

The air force reported 22 U. S. Sabre jets jumped four Communist MIG-15s today and probably destroyed one Red jet.

BUS FARE RAISE
Springfield, Ill., May 2 —(AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission today allowed Champaign-Urbana City Lines to charge a straight 10 cent cash fare for adults, eliminating the three for 25 cents token fares.

But the commission refused to permit the company to cut out a five cents student fare for children over 12.

MONOPOLY
Gray, Ia., May 2 —(AP)—Leo Wanninger, Gray high school senior, was crowned king of the school's junior-senior prom this week, even though he was in a Manning hospital recovering from an appendectomy.

He missed the festivities, but he didn't have to worry about anyone else being chosen in his place.

Wanninger is the only boy in the graduating class.

Scientists measure the size of tiny germs by photographing them through the microscope.

Steel Mills Open Again

BREWERY SAMPLER SAMPLED TOO MUCH

Chicago, May 2 —(AP)—A woman was awarded a divorce today on grounds of cruelty because her husband, a beer sampler in a brewery, "sampled more than he should, then beat me."

Mrs. Frances Scharrer, 42, was awarded the divorce by Judge Lawrence Phares, of Moline, Ill., sitting here in circuit court.

She testified that her husband, Leonard, 57, became "cruel and inhuman" after he performed his day's work. She said he "sampled more than he should, then beat me."

A spokesman for U. S. Steel, the giant of the industry, said the company's mills are resuming operations as soon as possible, but open hearth and blast furnaces, coke ovens and electric furnaces—all facilities where temperature is involved—will not re-open until "some reasonable assurance of continuing service is received."

It was expected that this question of "reasonable assurance" against another costly shutdown of the mills will figure largely in tomorrow's renewal of union-management talks at the White House.

Meantime, the great battle over the Truman administration's action of April 8 in seizing the steel industry to avert a strike raged on in the United States supreme court.

The industry sought to persuade the court to ban any government-ordered pay raise while the industry is in government control. The administration opposed the move, seeking to keep its hands free to grant wage increases.

There were reports the administration, unless stopped by the courts, would raise wages of the steelworkers if a union-industry agreement is not reached in the peace sessions opening tomorrow.

As the leader of the industry, U. S. Steel's position about resuming operations assumed top significance in the administration's struggle to get the steel plants back into full-scale operation.

A "Big Steel" spokesman told a reporter that U. S. Steel will open up everything except those basic facilities in which high temperature operations require long periods of time to shut down to prevent damage to equipment.

The spokesman said it had been "nip and tuck" whether the company would get its furnaces tapped and properly cooled down without damage in last Tuesday's wildfire strike by 650,000 CIO Steelworkers.

He emphasized, however, that there is no defiance or lockout involved, but only a move to protect the company's property.

Union officials earlier had charged that some steel companies were talking about reopening their government-seized plants after the union called off the strike this morning.

In the Washington legal struggle, the government told the supreme court there is "danger" of a steel strike if the tribunal should bar the government from granting a pay boost.

Pass Bill, Charges For Some British Health Services

London, May 2 —(AP)—The bill nobody really wanted to charge for some of Britain's hitherto free health services—won final passage from the conservative majority in the House of Commons last night.

The Labor party, which installed the health program on a fee-less basis nearly five years ago, fought bitterly to the end, shouting a defiant "no" as the vote was ordered, then recording 266 votes against the bill. The conservatives got 284 votes for the bill, a majority of 18.

Miss Pat Morrisby-Smith, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of health, told the House the bill was forced on the country by its financial troubles.

The charges include one shilling (14 cents) for a prescription, a maximum of one pound ($2.80) for dental treatment, and charges for such things as false teeth, surgical belts and other medical appliances.

No Gas Shortage For Derby Fans

Chicago, May 2 —(AP)—Fear of gasoline shortages need not dissuade motorists of the Chicago area and points south from driving to Louisville, Ky., for the Kentucky Derby, the Chicago Motor club said today.

The motor club said a spot survey of cities within a 300 miles radius of Chicago showed "no serious threats of fuel shortages." It said effects of the oil dispute appear to be "localized" in the Chicago area and that other gas supply areas in the Midwest are not greatly affected.

COURTEOUS THIEF
Davenport, Ia., May 2 —(AP)—Marion Cooke of Davenport reported to police Wednesday that the hub cap of his 1951 automobile was missing. Yesterday it was returned to his back porch with the accompanying note: "I'm sorry, it won't fit. Thank You."

Brass is an alloy of copper and zinc; bronze, an alloy of copper and tin.

Silk worm eggs are very small, about 100 of them weighing one grain.

Plants Slow To Recall Employees

Washington, May 2 —(AP)—Tens of thousands of steel workers found they had no immediate jobs to go back to tonight after CIO President Philip Murray called off the three-day-old strike at President Truman's request.

A spokesman for U. S. Steel, the giant of the industry, said the company's mills are resuming operations as soon as possible, but open hearth and blast furnaces, coke ovens and electric furnaces—all facilities where temperature is involved—will not re-open until "some reasonable assurance of continuing service is received."

It was expected that this question of "reasonable assurance" against another costly shutdown of the mills will figure largely in tomorrow's renewal of union-management talks at the White House.

Stocks Surge On Steel Talks

New York, May 2 —(AP)—The stock market today made the strongest advance in more than five years as the steel strike ended.

The rise added around two billion dollars to the total value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Joining in the forward surge were rails, steel, motors, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, oils, chemicals, aircrafts, and radio-television issues together with a long list of miscellaneous companies.

The upturn continued from the opening bell with a strong start based on overnight news that made final settlement of differences between management, labor and the government in the steel fight look brighter.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.80, the greatest rise since Dec. 9, 1946, during the postwar boom. The average closed today at $101.10.

Volume came to 1,300,000 shares, slightly above the average daily total this year.

WEATHER
The high for Friday was 85, at noon, according to the Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The low for the past 24 hours was 64.

Sunset today, 6:58 p.m. Sunrise, 4:55 a.m.

Forecast for Central Illinois
Fair Saturday and Sunday. Cooler Saturday. Northeasterly winds eight to 12 miles per hour Saturday. High Saturday 77, low Saturday night 48, high Sunday 78.

River Stages
Peoria ..... 16.3 fall 0.3

PEACE TALKS DRAG ON

Korean armistice negotiations are in the tenth month, with nothing accomplished, although Washington continues to circulate inspired stories to the effect that something big may be expected momentarily. There is strict censorship in effect in Korea, and the few real newspaper reporters left there get little copy through to their newspapers.

Sessions of the armistice negotiators now last a few seconds, then are scheduled to resume 24 hours later. It is apparent to everyone now—or should be—as it was to the less glib when these negotiations started, that the Reds had no intention of negotiating anything. The American people, however, were led to believe that this country had won the war and the enemy was throwing in the sponge.

Months ago it was reported an understanding had been reached on such matters as the exchange of prisoners. Later it developed there was no agreement.

Such matters as neutral truce supervision, with Russia included as a "neutral," and rebuilding of North Korean airfields are as far from solution as ever. There is no doubt that Russia is in the background, masterminding the red strategy, as it has been from the beginning.

For weeks the Allies, as U. S. forces in Korea are termed, have been insisting the communists quit stalling, and show honest intentions of attempting to arrive at a settlement of the many problems. But they have not been insisting too hard.

Meanwhile the Reds are strengthening their military position, which probably was the only reason they agreed to negotiate in the first place.

BY HAL BOYLE

Fifty years is a long time in the life of a man.

In half a century a man can fall victim to fallen arches, dyspepsia, cynicism or delusions of grandeur. Over that period he begins to feel himself coming apart at the seams. So do many governments, because governments—like men—are susceptible to interior ailments.

But after 50 years a good newspaper is just beginning to hit its stride.

A newspaper, like the community it reflects, is the sum of those who make it—and something more. It has a vitality of its own. There is no reason why good newspapers and good towns should fail to grow together endlessly, even though those who make them must grow old themselves and die.

The one thing a newspaper must have to endure is freedom. That is the only reason why today it has the greatest press in the world.

It has been free for so long that most people in this country take their newspapers for granted. It would come as a dramatic shock to them if some day they woke to find their newspaper could print only items that had been approved by a government censor.

Yet this is a daily fact to millions of people living in dictator-ridden countries. They are told exactly what the dictator wants them to know—and nothing more.

What is it like to live in such a country? It is always to live in doubt about what is happening. . . . In such countries newspapers that try to remain free are ruthlessly suppressed. A bought partisan press then voices, parrot fashion, any nonsense those in power decree it shall print. . . .

A free world press is the only real hope to world understanding; a bought press is the greatest barrier.

It is this liberty to tell the truth that makes American newspapersmen by and large, so fiercely proud of their craft. The mayor, the governor, or the president can't tell them: "You print this—you don't print that." They write the news as it happens.

Often the best reporters are those who refuse to go to the big cities. They would rather make their careers on newspapers in the community of their choice. One of the greatest, William Allen White, won world fame in Emporia, Kas. It proved a better springboard for him than New York, Washington, or Chicago did for scores of his contemporaries.

The size of a city has never been an index to the quality of its newspapers—or its newspapermen. Some of the best have always been located in small or medium-sized communities.

A man likes to feel that what he has invested his life in is worth while—and will go on. Although the average reporter doesn't spend much time talking about it, that is one of the privileges of newspaper work—it has continuity of life. You may wear out, but the newspaper will go on, serving its community.

All surveys today show that American newspapers are of higher quality, are read more widely, than ever before. They probably will continue to be so, long as they remain free to be the voice of the people.

Susan Ball, a tall (5'7") and gorgeous brunette is moving into the Ava and Lana glamour league at U. I. She just played the "other woman" with Joseph Cotten and Shelley Winters in "Untamed," and now it's low-cut gowns and smouldering, come-hither eyes for her as Jeff Chandler's co-star in "Yankee Buccaneer."

Says Susan, a former band singer from Buffalo, N. Y., "I don't make my entrance until Page 47. But when I do, things start to happen."

The Douglas Montgomery, who's starring in NBC's Cameo Theater Television of "Peer Gynt" as a three-part serial is the same D. M. who will read Kay Young, ex-wife of Liz Taylor's new hubby, Michael Wilding.

TV's getting more like the movies every day. There's now a full-time CBS talent scout in Hollywood to catch all the little theater emotes. Pint-Size For Horn

There's no sound track trickery behind the fog-horn voice of pint-sized, five-year-old George Winslow, who plays Cary Grant's son in Warner's "Room for One More."

Geerie, who sounds like Broderick Crawford, has been talking that way since infancy, and won the role after a radio appearance with Art Linkletter.

Even his parents are worried about how his voice will sound when he matures.

"It's so low now," his father said, "that most people think he's a midget."

Michael Curtiz, the director who murders the English language, corrected an actor in a scene for "The Story of Will Rogers" with the warning:

"Not that way. You are barking up the wrong track."

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood—(NEA)—Moviegoers who said they would like to see more of Hildegard Neff after seeing her in "Decision Before Dawn" are going to get their wish.

And the MORE will be more than they bargained for.

"The Sinner," a German-made movie of 1951 in which La Neff stripped down to September-Morn pink, is about to hit the art-house theater circuit and the word's out that the ads are going to outdo Hedy Lamarr's "Ecstasy."

Hildegard blushed on the set of "The Snows of Kilimanjaro" when I brought up the subject.

"I'm not going to feel sorry for myself," she told me. "After all, I signed a contract to do 'The Sinner,' knowing what the script was all about. It's ridiculous to scream and cry now. I shouldn't have made the picture in the beginning if I were going to be sensitive."

"It's a great dramatic part for me. It would be wonderful if they'd just cut a few—er—things."

It's matinee idol stuff again for handsome Kent Taylor as TV's "Boston Blackie" after a Hollywood career during which he romanced almost every glamour doll on the screen. Blackie's a private eye braver than Errol Flynn and the swoon fan mail is pouring in from teen-agers and housewives.

Says Kent: "I've been in pictures since 1931, but I've never been so much fan mail. It's fantastic."

Heard That Song Before

One of Hollywood's most elaborate musical ribs was staged by Victor Young at the expense of Max Steiner, the Warner studio musical director.

While Steiner was recording some theme music he had written, Young stole into the studio, wrote down the music and had it recorded by the Decca studio staff orchestra as the theme music for a fake radio news broadcast.

Several nights later he invited Steiner to his home to play poker, turned on the "radio" (a recording machine) and Steiner's brand new music filled the room.

Steiner dropped his cards, jumped to his feet and screamed: "Ye Gads, that's MY music. It's impossible. I just wrote it!"

"Oh, no, it can't be," said Young. "I've been listening to that news broadcast for months. They've always used that music."

Steiner slumped into his chair, shook his shoulders and said: "You know, when I wrote that music I had a funny feeling I'd heard it before."

Susan Ball, a tall (5'7") and gorgeous brunette is moving into the Ava and Lana glamour league at U. I. She just played the "other woman" with Joseph Cotten and Shelley Winters in "Untamed," and now it's low-cut gowns and smouldering, come-hither eyes for her as Jeff Chandler's co-star in "Yankee Buccaneer."

Says Susan, a former band singer from Buffalo, N. Y., "I don't make my entrance until Page 47. But when I do, things start to happen."

The Douglas Montgomery, who's starring in NBC's Cameo Theater Television of "Peer Gynt" as a three-part serial is the same D. M. who will read Kay Young, ex-wife of Liz Taylor's new hubby, Michael Wilding.

TV's getting more like the movies every day. There's now a full-time CBS talent scout in Hollywood to catch all the little theater emotes. Pint-Size For Horn

There's no sound track trickery behind the fog-horn voice of pint-sized, five-year-old George Winslow, who plays Cary Grant's son in Warner's "Room for One More."

Geerie, who sounds like Broderick Crawford, has been talking that way since infancy, and won the role after a radio appearance with Art Linkletter.

Even his parents are worried about how his voice will sound when he matures.

"It's so low now," his father said, "that most people think he's a midget."

Michael Curtiz, the director who murders the English language, corrected an actor in a scene for "The Story of Will Rogers" with the warning:

"Not that way. You are barking up the wrong track."

Height Is Mostly Inherited From Parents And Little Can Be Done to Increase It

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

There are probably few people in the world who are thoroughly satisfied with their own physical constitutions. Most of us would like to change our feet, faces, legs, back or some other physical characteristic, to some improved version of same.

Q—I am a boy, 19 years old, height 5 feet 4 inches, and would like to grow taller. My father is 5 feet 6 inches, mother 5 feet 3 inches. G.M.

A—Height is largely a reflection of what is inherited from the parents, plus diet, and perhaps climate and other things. As yet, there is no reliable method of increasing height, and while some additional growth may still occur, it is not likely to be much, and you should learn to accept it along with both some advantages and disadvantages.

Q—About 12 years ago I developed polyps in my nose and had them operated on. I had relief until last year, when I again developed a polyp in my left nostril. I am nervous about this condition. L.R.

A—Polyps are non-cancerous tumors which have a remarkable tendency to regrow after they have been removed. When they do come back, it is well to have them removed again, in most instances, and some people have had them removed time after time.

Q—I have been quite ill with low blood sugar. What can be done for this? Mrs. L. W.

A—Assuming that there is no tumor in the pancreas, or other definite physical cause of that kind, a person with low blood sugar who has symptoms is generally best treated with frequent feedings of high protein (not starchy) foods as erroneously stated in this column previously. It is best to have the exact diet outlined by the physician who has observed the level of blood sugar and can follow the results of the diet.

Q—My baby is 19 months old, but ever since she was three weeks old she has pulled out her hair, and now she eats it as well. I haven't asked our family doctor yet, but I have asked a hair stylist and she said if I don't get her to stop this habit she will ruin her hair cells. Mrs. A.

A—This is an extraordinary habit for this young child. Perhaps it is more likely to hurt her stomach than her scalp in the long run. It is a condition in which you should get your family doctor to help you as soon as possible.

Q—If a take two vitamin A capsules a day, will this make my cataracts disappear? C. A. D.

A—Unfortunately, it will not. There is as yet no satisfactory method other than surgery which will make cataracts disappear.

A Glance INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago

There were 27,547 pounds of scrap iron collected in Morgan county during a drive.

Fred Armitage of Exeter, was in serious condition at Our Saviour's hospital from the effects of a bite of a copper moccasin at a stone quarry.

Meredonia made plans to register 1100 sugar consumers.

George Geanetos of Jacksonville was advanced to first sergeant of the 27th Technical School Squadron.

20 Years Ago

George H. Varble, store proprietor at Kane, in Greene county, was slugged and robbed of $90 by three bandits.

Dr. George E. Baxter, was elected chairman of the Illinois college board of trustees.

Joe C. Smith, Chicago & Alton railroad employee, of Roodhouse, died in a Chicago hospital.

The sheriff of Morgan county started collecting taxes.

50 Years Ago

Walter S. Davis was appointed sexton of Diamond Grove cemetery by the Jacksonville city council.

Emphatic denial was given a rumor to the effect that the C. P. & St. L. Railroad was to be absorbed by the Santa Fe Railroad.

H. H. Massey of Jacksonville, sold his driving gelding Starlight, to H. A. Merrill of Mason City, Iowa, for $350.

WHAT'S RIGHT

You have a wedding anniversary coming along and you suspect that it has slipped your husband's mind.

WRONG: Make no mention of the fact that it is near. Wait until the day and if he forgets let him see how hurt you are.

RIGHT: Save him from the possibility of forgetting by casually mentioning that your anniversary is just a few days off.

Flower growers have learned how to bring garden chrysanthemums into bloom any month of the year by using shading cloth to shorten the days and artificial lights to lengthen days.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Russell's Backers Upset Him; Make Kefauver Camp Hopeful

Washington—(NEA)—Georgia Sen. Richard B. Russell is in the unique position of having so many friends backing him in the Florida presidential primary May 6 that a few of them are actually embarrassing him. Presidential candidate Russell is backed by both Florida Senators Holland and Smathers, by all six of the Florida congressmen and by Gov. Fuller Warren.

It has now come to light that Gov. Warren has been using state funds to distribute an attack on Senator Russell's rival, the crime-busting Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. The attack consists of a reprint from "U. S. A. Confidential," Governor Warren's defense is that he cannot be held accountable for money given to him by the state for promoting its best interests.

Next, it was disclosed that Senator Holland had been a beneficiary from the will of Henry Mills. He was the New York marine insurance underwriter whose Washington investigator had been Henry Grunwald, the non-talking witness in the Bureau of Internal Revenue tax-fixing investigations. Holland admitted knowing Grunwald and said he thought him a fine man.

Then the Russell forces arranged for a big political rally, and who should decide to come down and help celebrate but Gov. Herman Tamm of Georgia.

Finally, two slates of Russell delegates to the Chicago nominating convention have been filed for the second, May 27, Florida primary.

One slate is made up of Dixiecrats, the other of regular Democrats. If Russell gives his blessing to one it will make the other angry. The senator's main problem while campaigning in Florida will be to try to work out one compromise slate of delegates before the ballots are printed.

All these complications have made Senator Kefauver's camp hopeful. Originally they saw little chance of winning anything in Florida. Now the tall Tennesseean thinks he may be able to pull a few chestnuts of his own out of the Florida campaign fires.

Florida primary results will have an important bearing on Democratic battle for the whole Southern block of convention delegates. If Kefauver makes a poor showing, he can't expect much in other Southern states. If he makes a good showing, he has hopes of picking up delegates in Alabama, North Carolina, Arkansas, Texas and Maryland.

He is of course a cinch in his home state of Tennessee. But his managers don't admit that the solid South is as solid for Russell as has been generally believed.

A big plug for all-out aid to the French in Indo-China will be contained in New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's new book, "Touring the Far East." Governor Dewey is said to feel that if Indo-China is lost to the Communies, Japan will fall into Stalin's lap and the free world will lose all Asia.

Incidentally, Governor Dewey was recently introduced as the "William Jennings Bryan of the Republican Party," and didn't know what to make of it.

Some prominent Democratic leaders are still insisting, "Don't count Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois out of the presidential race yet. He can still be drafted."

Vice President Alben W. Barkley's Number One rule for conducting a strenuous political campaign is, "Always get eight hours of sleep every night."

Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma is doing a lot of his presidential campaigning by radio and television. As a guest on various quiz programs he gets this time free.

Having appeared on ABC's "Crossfire" program April 23, he hit Martha Rountree's "Keep Posted" on the 29th, and Bob Considine's TV show the same night. May 6 he's in "On Trial" over ABC and two nights later on the CBS "Presidential Profiles."

In between, Senator Kerr will do some regular old-fashioned campaigning. He was booked for Kansas Democratic state convention April 26, Oklahoma Democratic convention April 28, and will appear in Arizona May 19 and 20. He'll make one California appearance, in Los Angeles May 29, before the state primary first week in June.

Television now makes possible a lot of junior-grade Lincoln-Douglas debates with the whole country watching, and they will be tried on a limited scale in the near future.

As a wind-up of the Florida primary, Senators Richard B. Russell of Georgia and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee will appear on the same television panel at Miami, Fla., Monday, May 5, 9 to 10 p.m. This will be the last of Russell's 30 public, radio and television appearances in his 10-day Florida campaign.

An even better show, with candidates from both parties appearing on the same platform, was League of Women Voters' "Citizen's View of '52," at Cincinnati, May 1. Gov. Earl Warren of California, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota and Senators Kefauver and Kerr were booked to speak on their own behalf. Paul Hoffman speaks for Eisenhower.

Enjoy 'Angels on Horseback'

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

For Sunday evening gatherings when there is time to prepare usually appetizing specials, Angels on Horseback gallop right into the picture.

Ever enjoy them? We went to an editorial party at New York's Stork Club given by Arthur Guinness Son & Co. Angels on Horseback and other hot savories were served with Black Velvet—a combination of stout and champagne, half-and-half, chilled, as well as other cold beverages.

Besides Angels on Horseback, there were Coo-Coo sandwiches and Guinness Buck Rabbit. Now let's get back to your Sunday evening gathering and try the recipes.

Angels on Horseback

Cold and succulent, the oysters are cleverly wrapped in wafer-thin slices of streaky bacon. These little rolls are quickly fried in very hot bacon fat so that the outside is crisp and piping hot. In series of up to six rolls per person, they are rushed to the table on well-trimmed slices of bread, fried, not toasted, to a delicious golden brown.

Another English recipe: Season oysters with a little lemon juice and cayenne pepper, then wrap in a thin rather of bacon, secured by skewers, and grill, fry in butter or bake in a quick oven so that the bacon is crisp. The skewer is then removed and the Angels are served on toast or fried bread, sprinkled with a little more lemon juice and cayenne pepper. (Go easy on the cayenne.)

Coo-Coo Sandwich

Melt ground cheddar cheese, mix with yolk of egg, touch of English mustard, Add Worcestershire sauce and paprika. Mix all well and spread on toast. Grill and serve.

Guinness Buck Rabbit

Chop 1 pound of Cheshire or Cheddar cheese and put in a saucepan with 2 or 3 tablespoons of stout or milk, 1 teaspoon of butter, 1 teaspoon of lemon juice, a good dash of Worcestershire sauce, two well-beaten eggs and season highly with salt and cayenne pepper. Stir over a moderate fire until the mixture is of the consistency of thick cream and serve on slices of hot buttered toast.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, crisp bacon, French toast, maple syrup, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast milk-fed veal with sage dressing, pan gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered asparagus, enmechanted, rolled and fried, fried margarine, sliced tomato with chopped chives, lattice rhubarb and strawberry pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Guinness Buck Rabbit on toast, extra buttered toast, fruit cup (orange, bananas and strawberries), layer cake, tea, milk.

Catholic Daughter State Awards For Three Local Girls

Noreen Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Flynn who live northeast of Jacksonville, has been named outstanding Junior Catholic Daughter of the state of Illinois for her essay on "What It Means To Be a Junior Catholic Daughter."
 Miss Flynn will be the guest of honor at a brunch at the Knights of Columbus Club in Springfield Saturday morning after the pontifical mass at the Cathedral in which members of the local junior court will have a prominent part.
 Local juniors will also serve as pages during the three-day state convention of Catholic Daughters of America which opens with a reception tonight at the Abraham Lincoln hotel.
 Doris Cosgriff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cosgriff was awarded first place in the state poetry contest and will receive a ten-dollar award, according to an announcement made by Mrs. John T. Taylor, grand regent of Court Our Saviour, at the May meeting of the organization Thursday evening at the Knights of Columbus clubrooms.
 Harriette Lonergan, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Lonergan and the late Walter Lonergan, was awarded third place in the same contest and will receive a five-dollar award.
Elect Officers
 Mrs. Taylor was re-elected grand regent in the annual election of Court Our Saviour which also took place at Thursday night's meeting. Other officers who will serve for the coming year include Mrs. Emma Lonergan, vice-grand regent; Mrs. Mildred Phelan, prophetess; Miss Frances Gutmann, financial secretary; Mrs. Frances Yording, historian; Mrs. Kathryn Shanahan, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Lonergan, monitor; Miss Rosa Walsh, lecturer; Miss Mary Whalen, sentinel; Mrs. Alta Mae Eisch, organist; Mrs. Marian Doyle and Mrs. Leda Lewis, trustees to serve three years.
 Members of the committee for the social hour which followed the business meeting, in addition to Mrs. Mary Rose Doyle and Mrs. Helen Curtis, co-chairmen, were Ruth Murgatroyd, Anna Mae Cox, Lillian Cox, Ethel Crowe, Lillian Joyce, Helen Scanlon, Agnes Teeley, Betty Cooper, Nedra Dee, Dorothy Dowling, Frances Gutmann, Eleanor Hayes, Mary Joyce, Frances Lenth, Mary Standley, and Elizabeth Schimmer.

Delegation From Here To Attend "Y" Conference
 Thirteen young people from this community will represent Jacksonville during the two day session of the Illinois Area YMCA Young Adult conference to be held in Bloomington Saturday and Sunday. The area includes the entire state and Chicago.
 The theme of the conference is Christian Citizenship. The meetings which open Saturday noon, will be held at the Bloomington YMCA with the recreation at the YMCA.
 Leaving on Saturday morning are Jessie Wilhite, vice president of the local Co-ed club and members Beulah Wohlers, Mary Jane Ore and Ruby McKinley and the YMCA program assistant, Joe Smith. Arriving Saturday evening, Joyce Rebbe, president of the local club, Pauline Scupham and Margaret Foote of the city and Roy French, Reginald Jokisch and Ernest Launer all of Virginia. To arrive Sunday morning, Howard Lovekamp of Bluffs and Angela Kilham.
 The Jacksonville area group will conduct the recreation on Saturday evening a feature of which will be square dancing with Ernie Launer calling. In charge are Joe Smith, Jessie Wilhite, Margaret Foote and Beulah Wohlers.

Plane, Searchers Fail To Find Missing Man

Use of an airplane from the Municipal Airport and a search by more than 100 volunteers have failed to solve the mystery of the disappearance of Alvey Garrison, 66 year old Jacksonville resident, who left his home one week ago today and has not been seen since in this community.
 Chief of Police Ike Flynn scanned the countryside for more than a half hour from a leisurely cruising plane Friday morning. The plane was piloted by Frank Hoffman, manager of the Municipal Airport.
 The chief reported that he and Hoffman flew at low altitude, passing over the local lakes, along railroad tracks, and timbered areas. They saw nothing that would lead to Garrison's whereabouts.
 A large number of Boy Scouts and eighth grade boys responded to a call for help Thursday afternoon to hunt for the missing man.
 They searched the reaches of the Mauvaisterre creek, from Sandusky road north of the city to Morgan lake at Nichols Park under the direction of state, county and local police officials organized by Chief Flynn.
 Chief Flynn asked for the cooperation of students at 3 p.m. Thursday, asking them to assemble at the city hall immediately after school. They responded in a rush, and it required 19 cars — police and volunteers — to take the boys to the areas plotted for the search.
 The students were from all four ward schools, David Prince and Routt.
 Garrison's family reported his disappearance Sunday. The word was spread by the state police network that afternoon. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, police officials in four sections of Illinois and two other states have been contacted in an attempt to locate Garrison.

You Might Be A "Lucky Shopper:" Watch Papers
 There will be 20 lucky shoppers in the downtown district this spring and summer. Beginning in today's Journal and continuing each week for the next 20 weeks, a fortunate shopper will find his face circled in a picture taken on one of the downtown streets or on the square.
 Upon identifying himself or herself at the Journal Courier office the lucky shopper will be given a 8x10 reprint of the photograph and a written order for $20 worth of merchandise to be spent in one of 20 stores participating in the Fotoquiz.
 In all, there will be 20 "Lucky Shoppers" who will find their likenesses enshrined in the paper. The Fotoquiz is not a contest. It is a matter of good fortune plus a peeled eye for your photograph in the Journal Courier.
 The following merchants are participating in the Fotoquiz: Sears Roebuck, W. T. Grant, Walker Hardware, McCoy Shoestore, Western Auto, Hopper and Hamm, Wadell's, DeSilva's Cafe, Miller Paint and Wallpaper, Duncan and Vernon, Emporium, Myers Brothers, Withee China and Sporting Goods, Connie Shop, Walker Furniture, Deppe's, Schiff's Shoestore, Jacksonville Glass and Paint, Kline's, Morgan County Motors.

 A storage shed at the residence of J. B. Peak, 815 South Diamond street, was ruined in a fire Friday morning. A spectacular blaze burned the building and damaged or destroyed most of its contents, among which was a motorcycle.
 The fire department, led by Fire Chief Howard Reynolds went to the scene at 11:05 a. m. and soon brought the fire under control with two lines of two and one-half inch hose.
 According to fire department officials, the probable origin of the fire was a burning pile of rubbish nearby.

 One scholarship will be awarded in each of the following areas: northern Illinois, central Illinois, southern Illinois, and Greater St. Louis. High school seniors arriving Friday were guests in the college dormitories.

Why does milk contribute notably to the strength, health, and vitality of full-grown men and women? We know, of course, that this food is indispensable to all growing children, to all nursing and expectant mothers, and that all these individuals should have at least a quart of milk a day in some form.
 The answer is simple. Milk offers an exceptionally well-balanced combination of essential dietary factors, easily digested and utilized by the body. It contains fat and sugar to supply energy for the human machine; it has calcium for building strong bones; it has a superior protein to replace and repair bodily tissues. That is why a quart of milk a day is desirable for both children and grownups, but be sure you get the milk of highest quality, the milk that won first prize at the Illinois State Fair — PRAIRIE FARMS MILK

DO YOU KNOW THIS LAD?

He could be your boy or the boy next door—this solemn-faced youngster trembling before a judge in the court of justice. His offense may have been small—or extremely serious. But he has been in the wrong and he must answer for his misdeed.

Yet the blame might be placed on neglect—neglect of his parents to provide healthy outlets for his exuberant energies, neglect in occupying his free time with constructive interests, and neglect in providing a spiritual background.

Many parents fail to realize that proper spiritual guidance as well as physical and mental training can prevent just such predicaments as this. A child of religious background, well-educated in the basic ideals of Christianity, will not wilfully commit a crime against society.

Where does your child stand—alone? Or are you, his parents, with him all the way, your hands joined with his and with your unseen Father above?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Of Local Youth

The Missionary Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lillian Scott, 1157 South East street. The president, Mrs. Chester Fuson, conducted the meeting.

In the absence of Mrs. Howard Stevenson, Mrs. Herbert Capps, presided as secretary. Mrs. Holmes gave the treasurer's report. Announcement was made of the Fellowship tea on Friday for the United Council of Church Women. Mrs. Walter Ralston was appointed courtesy chairman.

Miss Anne Stevenson, as program chairman, introduced Dr. Malcolm Stewart of the faculty at Illinois College who spoke on "Social Education and Action." His talk was both interesting and informative and concerned the Youth Welfare Survey recently conducted in Jacksonville.

Christian Church
Plans Dedication
Of Small Children

Children will be dedicated in an impressive service Sunday morning, May 4, at 10:45 o'clock at Central Christian church. This is an annual service, giving opportunity for parents to present themselves with their children born within the year. Parents make this presentation as an act of dedication and commitment to establish a Christian home.

The parents will be presented with appropriate certificates and other tokens in recognition of the event. Arrangements have been made for the parents to retire to the nursery room with their children immediately after the dedication service. This service is the opening event in a total program observing Christian Family Week, May 4-11. On Wednesday evening the Christian Men's Fellowship will observe Ladies' Night at a banquet stressing the various phases of Christian family life.

First Baptist To Have Mother And Daughter Banquet

The World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church met Wednesday at the church parsonage. The president, Virginia Luster, conducted the meeting.

Plans for the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held at 4 o'clock Sunday, May 18 were completed. Mrs. Malcolmson reported on the World Wide Guild houseparty. This year the girls will meet at the Baptist camp at Lake Springfield. The cost is seven dollars for three days, June 20, 21 and 22.

The Guild voted to hold just one meeting a month during the summer. Plans will be made for picnics and parties.

An election of officers was held with results as follows: president, Elaine Martin; vice president, Wilma Dobbs; secretary, Margaret Luster; treasurer, Doris Henderson. Committees are: devotional, Janet Cunningham; Virginia Luster; White Cross, Barbara Mosley, Becky Dobson; membership, Norma Henderson; Justine Brown, Phyllis Strawn; social, Ursula Martin, Barbara Coats, Judy Young and reading, Maryann Rickert, Barbara DeWeese. These officers will be installed at the next meeting on May 14.

After the business session Wilma Dobbs led in the devotion. Becky Dobson presented an interesting program telling of her trip to California and the south west. She showed many pictures of the places of interest visited to accompany her talk.

FOURTEEN BOSSES, THREE COMMANDS ADD TO RIDGWAY'S JOB—Contrary to popular belief, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe, will not run the whole NATO show. Newschart, above, shows that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's successor will be responsible to the 14 chiefs of staff of NATO's military committee and the three chiefs of staff comprising the Standing Group. In the event of an emergency, however, it is likely that Ridgway would by-pass both groups and issue orders to his deputy commanders and the subordinate commanders in charge of Northern, Central and Southern Europe.

HOW RIDGWAY'S COMMAND SHAPES UP

LEGEND

- Northern Command
- Central Command
- Southern Command
- Iron Curtain Countries

COMMANDER NORTH AREA: Adm. Brind (Brit.)

COMMANDER CENTRAL AREA: Gen. Juin (France)

COMMANDER SOUTH AREA: Adm. Carney (U.S.)

SUPREME COMMANDER: Gen. Ridgway

HEADQUARTERS: Northern Command at Oslo, Norway; Central Command at Fontainebleau, near Paris; Southern Command at Florence, Italy.

Bracing the three areas shown on Newsmap above against the threat of Communist aggression is the giant job that confronts Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, NATO's new Supreme Commander. As set up and staffed by his predecessor, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the areas include the Central Command under France's Gen. Alphonse Juin with headquarters at Fontainebleau, near Paris; the Northern Command under Sir Patrick Brind with headquarters at Oslo, Norway; and the Southern, or Mediterranean Command, with headquarters at Florence, Italy.

SHORT, BUT NOT SWEET—United Nations truce delegation, headed by Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, left, enters a conference tent at Panmunjon, left, for a talk with Red negotiators. Fifteen seconds, and very few words later, the delegation leaves the tent, after one of the shortest "conversations" on proposed truce details yet to occur.

FOR LOVE OF GOD AND HIS COUNTRY

ON SOME ROAD MAPS of Wisconsin, the little village of Dickeyville (pop. 250) is hard to find but anyone who stops off there will remember it for a long time because of the handiwork of Father Matthias Wernerus. He turned the half-hidden hamlet into a spot which attracts tourists from throughout the world. With pieces of colored rocks, shells and shimmering glass, he built, by hand, statues, shrines and altars dedicated to love of God and loyalty to country. Mixing skill, patience and prayer in with his mortar, he slowly erected a life-size statue of Christ, surrounded by the 12 disciples in a small grotto, a Holy Ghost tree and an altar for the Blessed Virgin. Others heard about his religious works of art and soon sent in minerals, gems, rocks and shells from every corner of the world. Next Father Wernerus obtained statues of Christopher Columbus, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln for his "Patriotism in Stone" shrine and built bases and canopies for them. Although Father Wernerus put Dickeyville, Wis., on the map, so to speak, he did not finish all his plans for the shrines. After seven years of almost continuous work, he died in 1931, is buried in town cemetery.

17 Horses Entered In Kentucky Derby; Hill Gail Favorite

By John Chandler
Louisville, Ky., May 2.—(P)—Ben Jones shoved an added starter, Top Blend, into the Kentucky Derby today to keep the favored Hill Gail company, as 17 3-year-olds were entered for Saturday's $100,000 classic at Churchill Downs.

That was just about the only development in a town whirling like a merry-go-round waiting for some horses to grab the brass ring in America's most glamorous horse race. Hill Gail just didn't scare many others out of the race, as would have been expected after he broke the track record in winning Tuesday's Derby Trial.

This year there will be two betting entries, the Calumet Farm's Hill Gail and Top Blend, and the Myhelyn Stable's Master Fiddle and Jack Amiel's Count Flame. The last two are trained by Sol Rutchick, the Russian immigrant who handled Amiel's 1951 Derby winner, Count Furf, but missed his plane and didn't see the race.

The field jelled down after Alfred G. Vanderbilt's eastern derby horse Cousin and Gift Silver, owned by Odie Newell, an Iowa railroad engineer, were withdrawn.

The odds-makers were tabbing Hill Gail and his running mate at 7 to 5 but when the crowd of some 100,000 goes to work at the mutual windows this is expected to be shaved down to even money, and perhaps an odds-on 4 to 5.

Blue Man, the big eastern galloper from the White Oak Stable of A. W. Abbott, rules the second choice in the mile and one quarter event at 7 to 2. They were quoted 8 to 1 on the Master Fiddle and Count Flame entry, with 10 to 1 on C. V. Whitney's Cold Command and 12 to 1 on Sam E. Wilson Jr.'s Gushing Oil.

Eddie Arcaro, rated the nation's No. 1 jockey, has the No. 1 horse in the race as far as post positions are concerned. When they made the draw, Hill Gail was pulled out for the number one, rail slot. If Eddie can make it tomorrow, it will be his fifth Derby, the sixth for Trainer Ben Jones of Calumet Farm, and the fifth for Calumet. No jockey or trainer can match the Arcaro-Jones record, and only the late E. R. Bradley has had four winners of the colorful run for the roses.

Blue Man, to be ridden by Conn McCreary, drew the No. 15 post, which although outside shouldn't bother this colt and his come-from-behind style. Conn won the Derby with Count Turf last spring, and took it for Calumet and Trainer Jones in 1944 with Pensive.

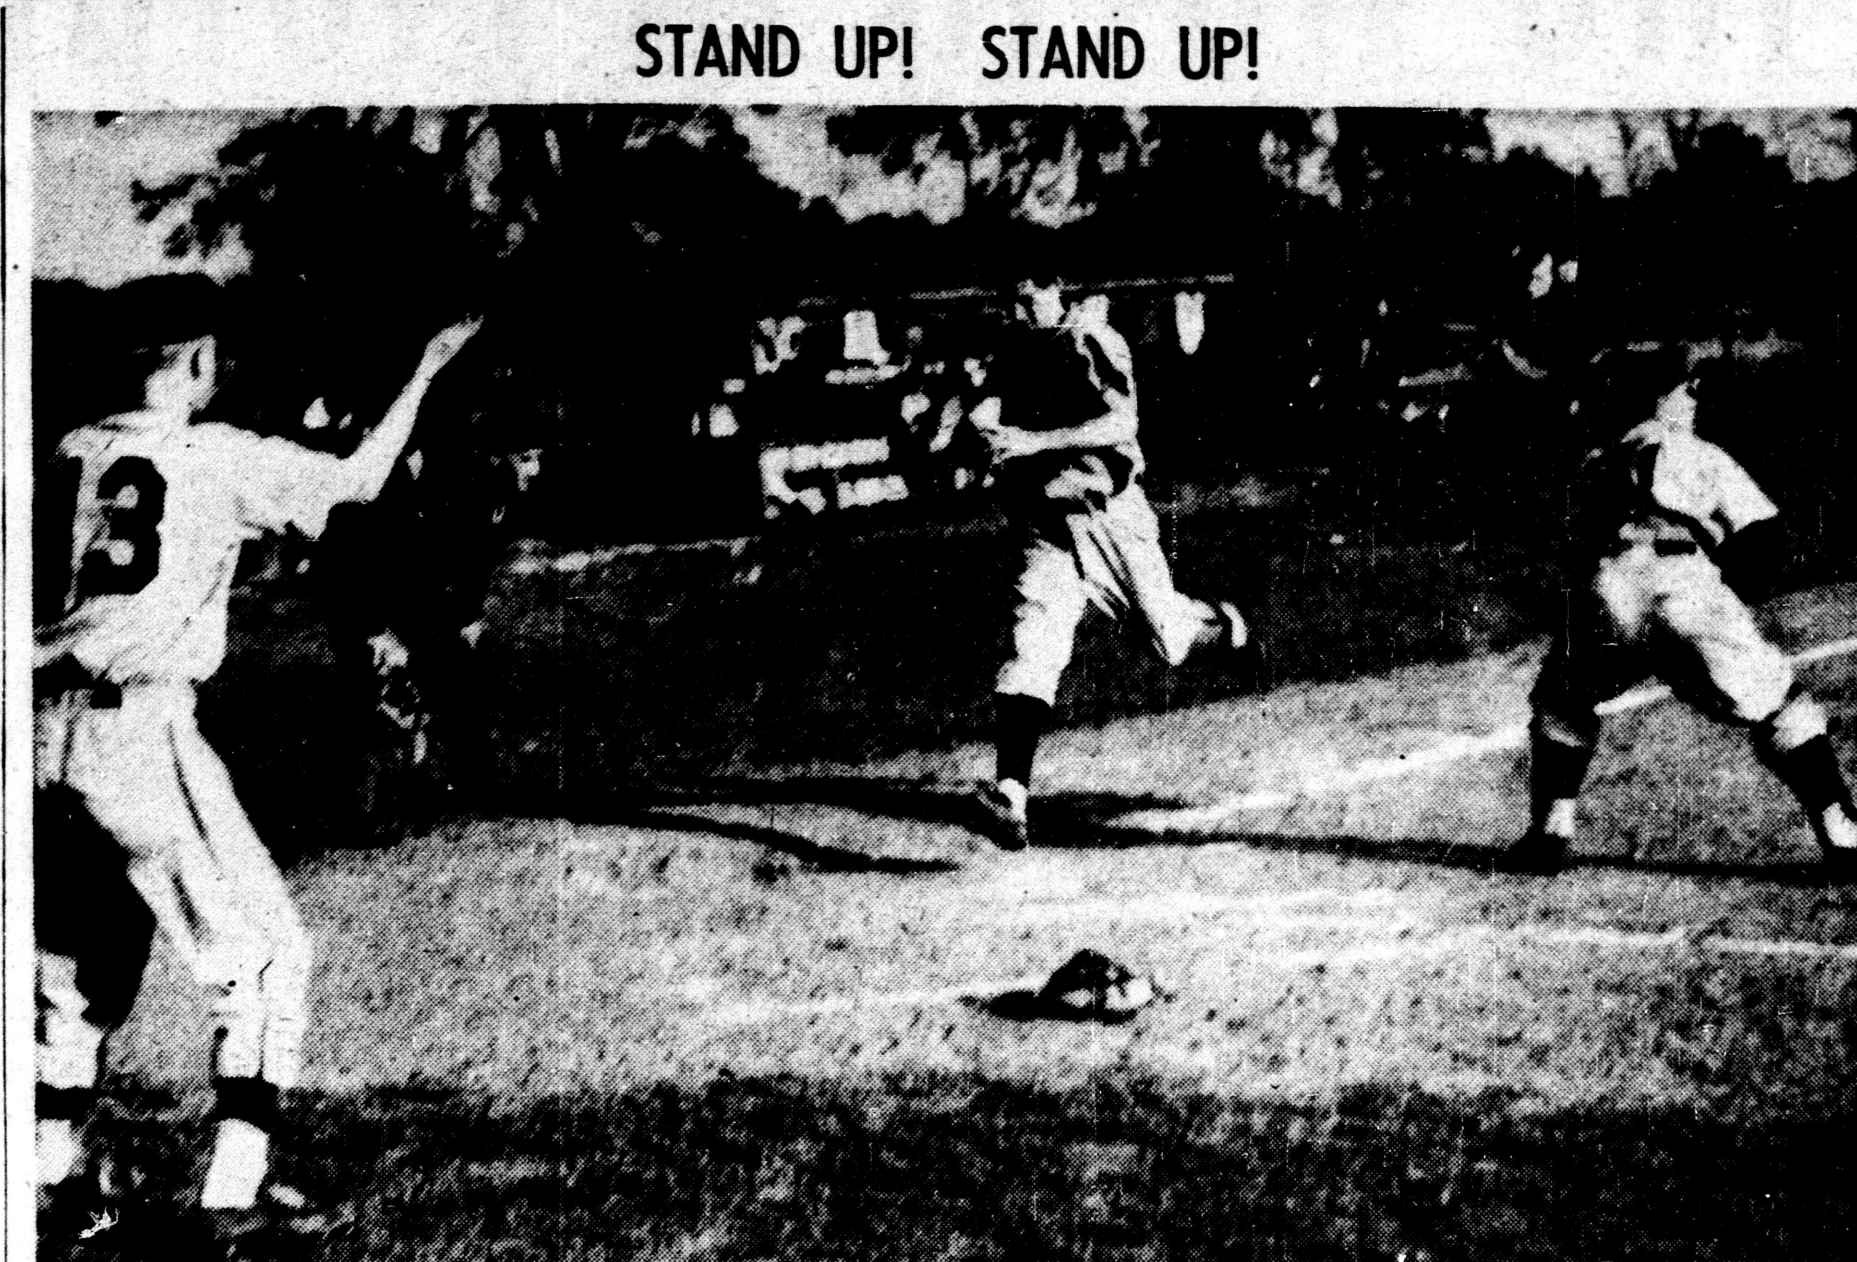

The others in the big show, which will be televised coast-to-coast for the first time as well as described on radio (post time 3:30 p.m. CST) are, in order of post position:

No. 2, Swoop, from the High Tide Stable of Eddie Burke, Kenneth Church up; No. 3, Mildred F. Underwood's Brown Rambler, Doug Dodson; No. 4, Count Flame, Willie Shoemaker; No. 5, Milton Shagrin's Shag Tails, Johnny Nazareth; No. 6, Mrs. Marion Du Pont Scott's Pintor, Henri Mora; No. 7, Gushing Oil, Ted Atkinson; No. 8, Eternal Moon, from the Emerald Hill Stable of M. A. White, J. R. Layton; No. 9, Sub Fleet, from Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana Stable, Steve Brooks; No. 10, Smoke Screen, from Freeman Keyes' Revierie Knoll farm, Johnny Adams; No. 11, Cold Command, Gerald Forch; No. 12, Top Blend, W. M. Cook; No. 13, H. G. Bockman's Happy Go Lucky, Tony Ferraiuolo; No. 14, Master Fiddle, Dave Gorman; No. 15, Blue Man; No. 16, Bayard Sharp's Hannibal, Billy Passmore; No. 17, on the extreme outside, the California-bred Arroz, owned by Mrs. Gordon Guilerson, with Ray York up.

All of them will pack 126 pounds, equal weight, in this 78th Derby, first won by Aristides in 1875.

It costs $1,000 to start in the Derby, and if all 17 go the purse will have a gross value of $125,350, with the winner netting a sweet $97,300. If 18 were going, it would have surpassed the record purse of $98,050 cleaned last year by Count Turf.

The weatherman brightened the picture when he announced it would be clear and cooler. He said there would be widely spaced showers in the Kentucky area, but revised a Tuesday prediction for showers today and tomorrow.

That's what Don Cox (13) is telling Blueboy Dale Cain as the big Illinois college first baseman crosses the plate to register his first home run of the season and the only Hilltopper tally of the game as the locals went down to defeat against Illinois Wesleyan Thursday afternoon. Umpire is Warren Flower. The Wesleyan catcher (extreme right) is still waiting for the throw. Illinois college is host to Millikin in another Little Nine conference game this afternoon.

Peanuts Lowery's Single Gives Birds 3-2 Win

St. Louis, May 2.—(P)—Harry (Peanuts) Lowery's single with one out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in Solly Hemus with the winning run tonight for the St. Louis Cardinals, giving 21-year-old rookie Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell a four-hit 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The rangy left-handed Mizell's first major league triumph came in a duel with righthander Russ Meyer, who yielded six safeties, three of them to Hemus. The Redbirds' shortstop has had 15 hits in his last 30 times at bat.

Hemus' line drive off Meyer's right knee, momentarily felling the Philadelphia pitcher, led to the game-deciding run. After Red Schoendienst sacrificed and Stan Musial was passed intentionally, Lowery lined a "3-2" pitch to left that sent Hemus across.

Connie Ryan hit his third home run of the season in the second and Gran Hamner belted a run-scoring double after the last of Mizell's three walks in the fifth inning. Philadelphia's only other hits were singles by Nippy Jones and Ryan in the ninth.

Veck Blasts Yankees Says World's Champs Could Draw 11 Million

New York, May 2.—(P)—Bill Veck was bedded by bronchial pneumonia but that didn't prevent baseball's human dynamo from talking about two of his pet subjects—promoting the pride of the New York Yankees.

"Nobody can tell me the Browns can't draw people," the club's flamboyant showman-owner said. "We've proved that they can. Just give the fans a good, hustling team and then work hard at selling the club."

"The Yankees, for instance, do a poor job of promotion," Veck added. "They have a drawing power of over 11 million. Yet they brag when they reach the two million figure."

With Veck at the business end and the capable Rogers Hornsby at the managing end, St. Louis attendance has perked up tremendously. In the first five home dates the Browns tripled their attendance figures for the corresponding period a year ago.

Veck, a sound baseball man as well as a promotional genius, started promoting the Browns from the day he gained controlling interest July 5, 1951. He embarked on a speech-making and selling tour that included luncheons, church meetings, industrial plants, civic groups, banquets, men's clubs, service clubs and radio and television appearances. He estimates his travels took him to some 60 cities in seven states. He's made about 400 speeches and personally contacted approximately 350,000 people.

"Before the season started I predicted we'd draw a million fans. I'm more convinced than ever now that we'll reach the figure," he said.

In five home dates, the Browns drew 70,916 fans as compared to 22,576 a year ago.

Kraushaar announced. Kraushaar will send his top pitchers Kenny Wright and Bill Williams against the Southern Illinois club.

Red Sox Chase Garver, Blast Browns 13-6

Boston, May 2.—(P)—Walt Drope came through with a grand slam homer as the Boston Red Sox set off a nine-run explosion against Ned Garver in the sixth inning today while overwhelming St. Louis' surging Browns, 13-6.

The come-from-behind triumph enabled the Red Sox to extend their top-place lead over the Browns to two games.

Gaver, a 10-game winner last year, was coasting along on what appeared to be a comfortable 3-1 lead until the Red Sox went into their furious rally. Dom DiMaggio opened it with a two-bagger and he scored on Jim Piersall's single. Then umpire Charlie Berry called a balk against Gaver and Piesall had a free ride to second base.

Don Lenhardt lashed a long drive that rookie Jim Rivera dropped for a two-base error in deep center.

The greatly upset Garver then purposely passed Vern Stephens to load the bases before Drope's third homer of the season and then made way on the St. Louis mound for Gene Bearden.

The Red Sox then pounded Bearden and Cliff Fanning for an additional four runs on six hits, two of them bunts by Faye Throneberry and catcher Sammy White, before being retired in the explosive sixth.

"I got mad when the balk was called against me and started throwing," Garver explained after being pulled out by Manager Rogers Hornsby. "It's just what I do when I play baseball. But I realize if you get the other guy mad, he can't play. That's what I did. It's my fault."

White Hall Thinlies Win Illinois Valley

Roodhouse.—(Special)—Coach Howard Berline's White Hall Maroons topped top honors in the Illinois Valley track and field meet here last night by stacking up a total of 73 points.

Carrollton's Hawk cinder team was the only threat to White Hall's dominance and the best that Coach Anderson's boys could produce was 52 tallies. Then followed Jerseyville with 28, Pleasant Hill 24, Pittsfield 18, Greenfield 17, Roodhouse 13.

Two records were established, both by White Hall athletes. Ford established a new mark of 21.5 in the 180 yard hurdles and Bertram set a new track record in the 220 at 24 flat.

The Summary:
120 yard high hurdles—Smith, Carrollton; Ford, White Hall; Speckhard, Carrollton; Brands, Jerseyville; Egelhoff, Jerseyville. Time 15.8.

Giants Topple Pirates 5-3 In 10 Innings

Pittsburgh, May 2.—(P)—The New York Giants scored two runs in the 10th inning, one of them a homer by Whitey Lockman, to beat the last place Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3 tonight before a crowd of 17,111. Bobby Thomson accounted for two of the Giant runs with a homer in the fourth.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who relieved starter Dave Kosio in the ninth, received credit for the win. The defeat was charged to Ted Wilks who relieved Howie Pollet.

Kosio seemed well on his way to his first victory of the year until the eighth when the Pirates forged a 3-3 tie.

That set the stage for Lockman to open the 10th with his homer. Thomson then beat out a single, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on a wild pitch.

Braves Clip Cincy 2-1

Cincinnati, May 2.—(P)—Jim Wilson drove in both runs and pitched seven-hit ball tonight to lead the Boston Braves to a 2 to 1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. Wilson's single in the second with the bases loaded and two out was the blow that handed Ken Raffensberger his first pitching defeat of the season.

Raffensberger, who had won his first three pitching starts, allowed Boston only six hits but three of them came in that fatal second.

Illinois Wallops Purdue Thinlads

Champaign, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Illinois walloped Purdue 104-28 today in a dual track meet featured by Stacey Siders' victory over Illini teammate Henry Cryer in the 880-yard run.

Illini athletes scored sweeps in the 100-yard dash, the discus throw, the broad jump and the pole vault.

Yankees Top Tigers 4-1 On Lopat's 2 Hitter

New York, May 2.—(P)—Eddie Lopat hurled a nifty two-hitter today as the New York Yankees topped the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, before a small crowd of 7,540. George Kell made both safeties, singling to right in the first inning and to deep short in the eighth.

The decision squared the series at a game apiece and was the first victory of the season for the southpaw Lopat, a 20-game winner in 1951.

Lopat walked only four but one of the passes led to the Tiger rally. Jerry Priddy took it in the first inning, moved to third as Kell laced a hit-and-run ball through the right side of the infield, and came home as Vic Wertz grounded out.

Athletics Outslug White Sox 13-12 In "Pitching" Duel.

Philadelphia, May 2.—(P)—Hank Majeski's dramatic single with one out and two men on in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 13 to 12 triumph tonight over the Chicago White Sox in a weird contest that saw 11 pitchers go to the mound—seven by the losers.

The defeat ended a five-game win streak for the White Sox.

Majeski's game-winning hit, following a double by Dave Philley, a walk to Gus Zernial and a fielder's choice by Ferris Fain, came off the slants of Charlie Stobbs. That made Stobbs, who came in the seventh, the loser and the A's Carl Scheib, who hurled two innings, the winner.

Wisconsin Nips Wildcats

Evanston, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Wisconsin defeated Northwestern, 5-1, today in a Western conference baseball game behind the pitching of Ronald Unke, who allowed only seven scattered hits.

Northwestern scored its only run in the third on Dick Panicke's third batter.

Dale Hall's University of New Hampshire basketball team set a new university scoring record. This was Hall's first year as coach at the institution.

Quincy Youngster Sets Pace For The Distance, Earl Setzer Is Second

It's a brand new stock car racing season but over 4,000 local fans were shown last night that the same old drivers intend to dominate the running again this year. Sonny Gross, one of the leading drivers last season, came through in championship style to win the 100-lap feature race and take a major share of the earnings back to Quincy.

The youngster, who captains the Western State University wrestling team in the off-racing season, drove his usual race in his Dad's battered 144, a Dodge by the way.

The Gem City youngster was never challenged as he grabbed the lead early and held on for the entire 100 laps. He even lapped second place Earl Setzer once and passed third place Ed Freese three times.

Russ Gross, the Dad of the Quincy racing team, was eliminated from competition early in the night when he piled into H. G. Covey of Jacksonville during the first lap of the first heat race.

Last night's huge turnout of fans and stock drivers indicated that the local season will be a huge success. Before departing for Louisville and the Kentucky Derby, fair board members Elmer Middendorf and Hayden Walker announced that they were confident that Jacksonville will lead the circuit this season. Other towns on the loop are Quincy, Timewell and Macomb.

Herb Jackson wheeled his 444 to a first place finish in the second heat race to carry Jacksonville colors high.

Sonny Gross won the first heat race, then settled back to await the Jesse Berry of Concord was driving in his first stock car race and he responded by winning the third 10-lap heat race.

John Turner, an old favorite from Quincy, topped top honors in the first 15-lap semi-final.

Bruce Wolke, one of Jacksonville's better drivers, won the B feature.

Last night's racing climaxed opening day festivities that started in downtown Jacksonville at 3:30 p.m. The big parade, planned by Hayden Walker, stretched out more than a mile as local auto and implement dealers joined with veterans organizations, the saddle club and the high school band to give the dare-devils a glorious sendoff to a successful season.

Summary Of The Races:
First heat—Sonny Gross, Quincy; Ed Freese, Quincy; Earl Setzer, Macomb.
Second heat—Herb Giancy, Jacksonville; Don Hay, Beardstown; Sonny Kramer, Quincy.
Third heat—Jesse Berry, Concord; Russ Cole, Jacksonville; Lyle Mathis, Rushville.
First semi-final—John Turner, Quincy; Dick Vance, Palmyra, Mo.; Dick Erdel, Quincy; H. G. Covey, Jacksonville; Dave Knight, Jacksonville.
Second semi-final—Dale Huseman, Barry; Bill Malcomson, Timewell; Keith Deshires, Winchester; Ed Freese, Quincy; Sonny Roach, Jacksonville.
B feature—Bruce Wolke, Jacksonville; Bob Kendrick, Mendon; Don Lipcaman, Winchester.

ISD Nine Tilts Routt 27-17 In PMBC Fracas

Illinois School for the Deaf and Routt nines did little more than take turns at batting practice yesterday afternoon with Coach Patsy Clark's Tigers finally winning out 27-17 in a PMBC conference diamond marathon.

The pattern of play was made apparent at the outset when Jim Smarjeski's Routt nine collected five runs in the first inning only to have the westenders come back with three in their half of the frame.

Both clubs bit off huge chunks of runs in the ensuing frames but the payoff came in the sixth and seventh innings.

The final two frames lasted well over an hour.

Routt trailed ISD 7-16 going into the bottom half of the sixth. The Rockets then shelled Tom Kibecka and Lowell Kumer from the mound with a ten run barrage and captured the lead.

Kibecka pitched the entire game for ISD with the exception of the sixth when Kumer relieved him. Long enough to throw to four men. Kibecka was sent back into the contest when Kumer was found ineffective.

ISD's turn for revenge came in the top half of the seventh when the Tiger hitters cut loose against George Riley and Paul Lawless for 12 big runs that clinched the game.

Riley twirled most of the way for Routt but he was spelled in the sixth and part of the seventh by Lawless. Riley finished the contest. ISD hitters pounded out 19 hits. Jack Rampley was the big gun, connecting for three home runs and a single. Bill VanSpankeren socked a single to right shoving across Campanella.

Indians Defeat Senators 6-2

Washington, May 2.—(P)—Al Rosen's three-run home run in the seventh inning was the big blow as Cleveland defeated Washington 6-2 tonight behind the seven-hit pitching of Mike Garcia. Dale Mitchell also homered for the Indians, with G. Riley, p-lf. Dale Mitchell, Shanahan, ss. 5-1. Perlick for fifteen hits.

Rosen's blow, delivered after Harry Simpson had tripped and Bobby Avila walked to start the seventh inning, sealed Garcia's second victory. He has lost two.

Illini Nine Tips Boilermakers 11-6

Champaign, Ill., May 2.—(P)—The University of Illinois baseball team, aided by seven Purdue errors, beat the Boilermakers 11-6 today.

The victory evened the Illini's Big Ten record at two wins and two defeats.

Illinois' Gerry Smith was the winner, going the route on a 13 hit victory. The Illini got 10 safeties off two Purdue flingers. Shortstop Johnny Davis hit safely four times for Illinois.

SOUTHERN ILL. TAMPS ARKANSAS STATE

Carbondale, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Southern Illinois University slammed out 17 hits for a 17 to 6 victory over Arkansas State of Jonesboro today.

It was SIU's 10th triumph against three defeats.

Ron Hagler pitched all the way for Southern and batted in two runs with a triple. John Cook was the losing pitcher.

Larry Burns and Bob Ems both contributed homers to the Illinois school's attack. Burns' blow coming with a man on base.

ADVERTISE-IT PAYS

Manslaughter Defendant Held For Grand Jury

Jerseyville—A preliminary hearing was held Thursday in the case of the People of the State of Illinois vs. Paul Moore, charged in a complaint with manslaughter. The charge against Moore arose out of the death of the early morning of April 26 of Herman E. Probst of East Alton, following an altercation in the yard in front of Kate's Tavern, on Federal Highway 67, seven miles south of Jerseyville.

The chief witness at the hearing was Mrs. Janet Sweet of Alton, who testified that she accompanied Probst to the tavern shortly after midnight the night of April 26. She stated that she and Probst remained at the tavern about 15 or 20 minutes and during that time Moore bought drinks for the house, they being among the number who were treated.

Woman Sees Blow Struck She testified that she left the tavern and walked to the Probst car and got in. Probst was following her to the vehicle. Moore was in the front seat of his car and called across to Mrs. Sweet an inquiry as to where she was going now. Probst resented the inquiry and informed Moore it was none of his business and called him a vile name. Upon that Moore took off his coat in his car and got out.

The altercation followed and according to Mrs. Sweet, one blow was struck that toppled Probst who went down and struck his head on the rear bumper of his own car as he fell.

Mrs. Kate Draper, proprietress of the tavern, testified that she did not see the fight, but inquired of Moore if he had struck Probst. She called the Streeper ambulance from Alton and made a second call to the effect that the condition of the one to be transported was serious.

Justice A. Thatcher ordered Moore held for investigation by the grand jury and fixed his bond for appearance in sum of $10,000. In default of bail he was remanded to the county jail.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 2—(P)—Hog prices extended a week-long climb today with the biggest markup in months, amounting to 25 to 75 cents a hundredweight. One load hit $19.25, the highest since Dec. 26. For the week this top figure was up $1.75 while the general market was up 50 cents to $1.50.

A normal seasonal reduction in supplies in the face of much improved order buying demand, plus government support buying of more than 25 million pounds of pork products last week and this, accounted for most of the market's strength.

In the week's closing session barrows and gilts ranged from $17.40 to $19.00, around 50 to 75 cents higher over night, and sows were mainly $15.00 to $18.75, or 25 to 50 cents better. Outside shippers bought more than a third of the 7,000 hogs on sale, developing good early clearance.

By contrast, the week's closing trade in cattle and sheep was a dull and generally steady affair although commercial cows were weak to 25 cents lower and vealers weak to $1.00 off.

Good and choice steers and yearlings went at $28.00 to $34.00 and similar grades of heifers at $28.50 to $33.00. Cows topped at $25.50, bulls at $27.50, and vealers at $37.50. Lambs were removed from the market although quotable up to $28.50 and ewes sold at $13.00 downward.

Receipts included an estimated 1,000 cattle, 200 calves, and 500 sheep.

David Prince 8th Grade Takes Trip To New Salem

The eighth grade of David Prince Junior High school took its annual Springfield-New Salem trip on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 29, 30 and May 1.

Jacksonville Trailways busses and cars driven by parents provided transportation, 155 children making the trip.

Sections 1 and 5 went on Tuesday with their homeroom teachers, Mrs. Lillian Carter and Mrs. Amy Roach. Mrs. Richmond E. Fairfield, Mrs. Pat Longstaff and John Conant, principal of David Prince school took cars and helped supervise the group on Tuesday.

On Wednesday, April 30, Sections 3 and 4 made the trip with their homeroom teachers, Mrs. Evangeline Norton and Miss Ila Lewis. Mrs. Mae Tomlin, Mrs. Lee Lyons, Mrs. Harold Black, Leland Souza and Paul Keller furnished cars and helped supervise the group.

On Thursday, May 1, Section 2 and 6 and their homeroom teachers, Miss Ruth Frum and Raymond Ranes, went on the outing. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bahan, Mrs. George May, Mrs. E. W. Brown, and Mrs. Gordon May drove cars and assisted with the supervision of this group.

The itinerary consisted of a visit to the state museum, the Lincoln room, the House and Senate chambers and the Governor's reception room on the capitol grounds.

The Lincoln home and tomb were also visited and a sack lunch was eaten in Lincoln Park.

The last part of the tour included a guided tour through New Salem park. All busses and cars reached home before 5 o'clock.

A study unit concerning Lincoln and Illinois history was used as preparation for the event in order to provide students with a suitable background for the tour.

Each student paid one dollar toward his transportation, and the remaining expense was taken care of by the David Prince Parent Teachers' Association.

SCIENCE PUPILS FROM WHITE HALL SEE PLANT

GRAIN PRICES SAC AFTER EARLY RISE

Chicago, May 2—(P)—An early bulge in grain prices on the board of trade today was almost completely wiped out before the final gong.

An active demand sent prices up in the first hour. After that, the trading pace quieted and a slow decline set in. But at no time did the market develop any pronounced weakness.

Buying was based in part on ending of the steel strike and failure of the Communists to accept a United Nations proposal for ending the fighting in Korea.

Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots: wheat, corn, 128, oats 7, rye 1, barley 20 and soybeans 12.

Wheat closed 1-1 lower; May $2.41-1, corn 1-1 higher, May $1.78-1, oats 1 lower to 1 higher, May $1.18-1, rye unchanged to 1-1 lower, May $1.96-1.95, soybeans 1 lower to 1 higher, May $2.01-1.92, and hard 22 to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $10.87.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

New York, May 2—(P)—Stocks—Higher; steel strike end boosts list.
Bond—Higher; selected rails improve.
Cotton—Lower; liquidation and trade selling.

Chicago
Wheat—Easy; private estimate raises crop prospects.
Corn—Steady; report supplies light west of here.
Oats—Mixed; May easy, other months firm.
Soybeans—Mixed; May firm on short-covering.
Hogs—Active, 25 to 75 cents higher; top $19.25.
Cattle—Steady to 25 cents lower.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

Chicago, May 2—(P)—Cash wheat: No. Corn: No. 22 yellow 1.83-1.84; No. 3, 1.82-1.83; No. 4, 1.71-1.81; No. 5, 1.63-1.71; sample grade 1.48-1.72. Oats: No. 1 heavy white 89-90.

The body was taken to the Linter Memorial home where it will remain until one hour before the services to be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Bath. Rev. Joseph Hobbs of Mason City will be in charge. Interment will be made in the Bath cemetery.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 2—(P)—The end of the steel strike and a move to resume wage-price negotiations sent the stock market ahead strongly today.

Gains ran from fractions to between 2 and 3 points with almost all major sections of the market joining in the advance. A few higher priced issues went up well outside the range at times.

Volume came to an estimated 1,300,000 shares as compared with yesterday's 1,380,000 shares.

The best divisions were rails, steels, oils, motors, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, together with some chemicals, aircrafts, and radio-television issues.

Higher were Bethlehem Steel, Atlantic Coast Line, Northern Pacific, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, and Boeing.

U. S. government bonds held steady in the over-the-counter market.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy
Copyright 1951 by Helen McCloy. Printed through permission of the publisher. Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Dr. Basil Willing has trailed an impostor to a party at the home of another psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. When Basil talks to the little man who has been using his name, the faker asks for a chance to explain. Basil does not reveal his identity to the host, but accompanies the impostor to a cafe. But before the man can explain he is talking about a place where "no bird sang."

DR. ZIMMER came into the room. A dark silk dressing gown, its belt tightly cinched at the waist, set off his broad shoulders and long flanks. Basil spoke first.

"This is Inspector Foyle, Dr. Zimmer. I am Basil Willing." Zimmer smiled with sudden amusement. "Just how many Dr. Willings are there?"

"This is the real Dr. Willing," Foyle showed his badge to Zimmer. "The other Willing was the impostor."

"And you were the one I picked as a faker," Zimmer smiled faded. "It must be a serious matter if the police are taking it up."

"It is serious," said Foyle. Zimmer himself took the wing chair beside the hearth now cold and bare. "It's hard to believe that little man capable of murder."

"He wasn't the murderer," said Basil. "He was the victim. And he died half an hour after he left your house. I was with him. He showed the usual symptoms of alkaloid poisoning. Faint, gaily and physical relaxation followed by drowsiness and mental confusion."

"Or his methyl compound, codeine." "You're a doctor of medicine?" "Yes, like Dr. Willing. I specialize in psychiatry." Zimmer turned back to Basil. "I'm sure you will agree that in some cases morphine produces lethargy and coma, while in others it causes delirium and convulsions. You can't even rely on the time element."

"Most murderers are not medical men," responded Basil. "And in either case—morphine or codeine—one thing is fairly certain: the first symptoms of a fatal dose appear in 20 to 40 minutes."

THIS time Zimmer's smile was rueful. "You are thinking of the cocktails he drank here?"

Zimmer turned to Foyle. "As Dr. Willing will tell you, all the cocktails came out of one silver pitcher. So, if he were poisoned here, it must have been after his own glass was filled."

"Each glass was a different color," Basil explained to Foyle. "So once he had taken his glass, it could always be identified as his."

"He was standing alone when Otto served him his first cocktail," said Zimmer. "The only people near him while he was drinking the second were Mrs. Yorke and myself."

"Myself?" Basil smiled. "It doesn't have to be Mrs. Yorke or me. He left his cocktail on a table for several minutes while he was talking to us and then finished it. Anyone might have passed that table except Miss Shaw and you. I was watching you both at the time."

"Are you sure he wasn't poisoned before he came here?" suggested Zimmer.

Basil shook his head. "The first symptom appeared as he and I left the house and walked toward the avenue—a rather foolish euphoria. He had been here at least 30 minutes. He was poisoned here."

"But that's quite impossible!" protested Zimmer earnestly. "None of my guests is capable of such a thing. Perhaps he mistook some sleeping pills he had for vitamin capsules or some other medicine he was in the habit of taking before dinner. Who would want to kill a man like that, anyway?"

"A man like what?" demanded Foyle.

Music Festival To Be Held May 9 By Scott Pupils

Winchester—About 300 boys and girls of the first four grades of the Scott county schools at Alsey, Bluffs, Glasgow, Manchester and Winchester will take part in a music festival in the auditorium of the Winchester high school at 8 o'clock p.m. Friday, May 9.

The theme of the program for the annual event will be "A Visit to Mother Gooseland" for grades one and two, and "Heigh Ho, Heigh Ho, On a Trip We Go" for the third and fourth grades. Songs will represent each section of the country visited on the trip, which will include the south, Mexico, the west and the mountains.

Alsey, Glasgow and Manchester will present Rhythm Band of grades one and two. The leaders will be Gordon Day of Alsey, Allen Muntz of Glasgow and Allen McClure of Manchester.

The program is under the direction of Miss Dona Clark, music instructor at the Winchester grade school, Miss Phyllis Soosey, music instructor at the Bluffs grade school and Miss Nita Ford, music instructor at the Manchester, Alsey and Glasgow schools. There will be two joint practices before the presentation of the program.

Rea's Mobilgas Station
At Main and 10th

From Percy Grofe's "Grand Concerto" to Rachmaninoff's "Humoresque" and from the MacMurray College campus to the Grace Methodist church, high school students from as far north as Harvard and as far south as Cairo tootled and sang in groups or individually in the largest musical contest Jacksonville has had in many years.

Ninety-nine high schools throughout the state sent 1,500 contestants and 500 instructors and chaperones to this city Friday to participate in the 38 scheduled events. A total of 735 individual or group entries are participating.

In the solo and ensemble divisions yesterday, hundreds of contestants, gathered in 13 locations allotted a few minutes each to sing or play previously announced classical or semi-classical numbers.

In the cornet solo contest, as a typical example, 33 individuals from all parts of Illinois were given seven minutes each to play such numbers as "My Regards," by Llewellyn, "Reflections," by McCall, and Vanderhook's "Santanello." The first cornet soloist, Gordon Sansom of Beardstown, gave his rendition at 8:30 a. m. in the chapel at MacMurray College, and this event continued without pause until 1:30 p. m.

At the same time, group contests also were on tap. Among these were bands, orchestras, girls boys and mixed choruses. Twenty-three bands were allotted a half-hour each at the Jacksonville high school auditorium beginning at 5:30 p. m. yesterday to present three numbers each. The band contest will continue today.

Typical were the selections of the Beardstown high school band, which played from 8 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. They were "Knightsbridge March," by Fillmore, "Prelude to Faust," by Gounod, and "Egmont Overture," by Beethoven.

Following their formally announced renditions, each band retired to a high school classroom to play at sight previously unannounced selection.

The chorus contests, some of which already have been staged at MacMurray, also are tested both in previously announced numbers and in sight reading. Each chorus sings two numbers within a space of 12 minutes.

Prof. Henry F. Busche, head of the music department at MacMurray College and general chairman of the contest, commented, "We have a very tight schedule. Everything must go off like clock-work if each one of these young and talented musical artists and musical organizations is to be fairly judged."

Thanks Local Organizations
He added, "I wish to thank the many institutions in Jacksonville which have offered their buildings as sites for these contests. Without their help the Illinois High School Association and MacMurray College would have found it quite impossible to stage this magnificent and inspiring event in Jacksonville."

How Smith Made Soap By The Moon In 1902

A news story from the Journal-Courier correspondent at Cracker's Bend, a community northwest of Jacksonville, 50 years ago, told how a resident there attempted to make some soft soap-semifluid soap produced when potassium hydroxide is used in the saponification of a fat or an oil—wood ashes and tallow.

Here is the story that the correspondent sent to this newspaper: "Esquire Jim Smith of this community set a day to make his soft soap. Mr. Smith was well posted on most questions and took considerable pride in being able to follow all the antics of the moon.

"He also has or thinks he has all the preliminary points, signs and tokens of his ancestors who were good soft soap makers and Mr. Smith imagined he had a soft job on his hands and smiled softly to himself.

"He put his kettle on a tripod when the sun was under a cloud, put a forked Witch-Hazel over the kettle to keep it from boiling over, stirred with a sassafras stick against the wind at the same time standing on his left foot and shutting his right eye.

"Three walked around the kettle three times and spit over his left shoulder seven times when he put the grease in, besides paying strict attention to other important rules; but all his pains were for nothing, it wouldn't soap worth a cent.

"We made a calculation for him and found that he had commenced just 40 minutes too soon, according to the moon."

Mrs. Foreman Elected National LWV Director

Cincinnati, May 2—(AP)—The League of Women Voters today reelected Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., as president at the closing session of its biennial convention.

Mrs. Robert F. Leonard of Washington was reelected vice president, and Mrs. Walter Neale, New York, was renamed secretary.

Denver, Colo., was chosen tentatively as the place for the 1954 convention.

Other officers chosen included Mrs. Orville Foreman, Jacksonville, Ill., and Mrs. Renais Likert, Ann Arbor, Mich., directors.

Since 1927, when Mrs. Foreman became a member of the local League of Women Voters, she has served in many capacities. As president, social welfare chairman, and in other offices she has worked to carry out the aims of the organization.

She has contributed to the success of a variety of local projects, from elimination of the County Poor Farm to adequate garbage disposal. Through membership in the county welfare committee, the county advisory board for the Poor Farm problem, and other mediums she has worked for the community.

Her duties on a statewide level have included the directorship of the State Welfare association and now include membership in the Governor's Commission on Human Relations.

In the Illinois L.W.V., the organization that comprises all the local leagues in the state, she has been vice president, economic welfare chairman, legislative chairman for several sessions.

Last April she was appointed voters service chairman, to serve on the national board of the League. The purpose of this office, to distribute information on all levels of government to all women voters, was furthered when she helped arrange the "Political View of '52," recent program in which several of Jacksonville's citizens spoke on national and world affairs.

She was a delegate to the White House Conference in 1951, a meeting at Washington, D.C., which dealt with the problems of children. Attorney and Mrs. Foreman have their home at 1313 Mound avenue. They have three children, Peggy, an Illinois College graduate now studying at the University of Washington; Connie, a sophomore at Illinois College; and Mike, a freshman at Jacksonville high school.

Tells Jefferson PTA Home Is Biggest Factor

An address by Dr. Thomas Auner on "Mental Health," stressing the importance of home life, was the main feature when the Jefferson school P. T. A. held its last meeting of the season Thursday evening. His speech carried out the theme of the evening, "Better health—better citizens."

The business session began at 7:30 p.m.

Officers were installed for the next school year. Mrs. Russell Ward became the president; Mrs. Byron Kruse, vice president; Mrs. Keith Hopper, secretary; and Mrs. Maude Hingate, treasurer.

Mrs. Ward presented the retiring president, Mrs. Enneth Miner, with a past president's pin for two years of service to the P.T.A.

Pupils Furnish Music
Music was provided by Miss Esther Barker's first grade pupils and Mrs. Doris Fitch's third graders. The latter group sang under the direction of Miss Alice Post. Mrs. William O'Brien played the accompaniment.

"The greatest responsibility lies in the home," Dr. Auner said, speaking of the mental health of a child and his ability to grow into an adult in mind as well as body.

Civilization, the state, religion, the school and the family are all interrelated, he continued. Yet the beginnings of all are in the home.

He listed discipline, love, security and responsibility as the key items of mental health.

Parents should accept the realities of life, be able to shoulder responsibility, he declared, as well as to support their children. "Spoiling a child creates a neurotic adult," the doctor stated.

First 12 Years Important
Mental stability in adulthood is fairly well assured, he said, if the child receives good training the first 12 years of his life.

He stressed the benefits of good home life, of time that mothers and children spend together.

In his opinion, Dr. Auner said, the school system is at fault in not giving special training to superior children who should become the leaders of tomorrow.

Oliver Buck, principal of Jefferson school, reported on the defense stamp program through which children are aiding the nation's security and commended the work of the school's safety patrol.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruby Biggs, assisted by Mrs. Cowlick. Sandwiches were donated by the room mothers and chairman.

Members of the budget committee are Garvin Day, chairman, Otis Jouett and Mrs. Stella Osborne; nominating committee, John Vestel, chairman, Tom Printy and Mrs. Dorothy Falkner.

Funeral Services
Services for Mrs. Marie R. Edelbrock will be held at the Williamson Funeral Home at 1:45 p.m. Saturday with Rev. Frank Marston officiating. Additional services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Concord Methodist church. Interment will be made in Concord cemetery.
